Staying safe online

During the college closure, it is important to remember how to stay safe online.

Social media and internet usage are a great way to keep in touch with friends and family and provides opportunities for you to continue with your college learning, have fun and discover new hobbies!

However, the internet can expose you to risks including:

- Cyberbullying
- Online grooming
- Emotional abuse
- Online abuse
- Scams/frauds

Staying safe online- Share with Care

Social media is all about sharing. However, over-sharing or inappropriate sharing could cause you problems. Our tips for sharing content are:

1. Photos- post appropriate pictures only. There are laws governing the sharing of images. See the Gov.uk website. <https://www.gov.uk/government/publications/indecent-images-of-children-guidance-for-young-people/indecent-images-of-children-guidance-for-young-people>
2. Privacy- check your privacy settings are high, only share with friends and family and keep the personal chat personal!

3. People- remember, not everyone is who they say they are. Don't accept or send friend requests to people you don't know.

4. Posts- share with care. Pause for thought before you post anything. Could it offend or upset someone? Once you put something out there, you are not in control of it anymore.

5. Personal information– give away as little personal information as possible. Be careful not to reveal personal information accidentally. For example, by posting a picture with information in the background. The more information = the more vulnerable you are to fraudsters or abusers.

Staying safe online- Online gaming

You may be spending your free time playing online games as a way to relax, socialise with your friends and have fun. But remember, you can be at risk of abuse and fraud through gaming just as much as you can through social media usage.

The risk of online gaming include:

- Being Bullied
- Trolling, griefing and scams
- In-game purchases
- Talking to people you don't know
